License terms

1. Parties. This license is granted by Ciarán Mullan, trading as "Mu Lean", Mariendorfer Weg 5, 12051 Berlin, Germany (support@mulean.com) ("Mu Lean", "we"), also on behalf of the co-producers named in the credit for the Beat, to the buyer named in the order confirmation for this purchase ("you").

2. Beat. The beat is the instrumental named in your order confirmation (the "Beat"), delivered in the files listed for your lease in the schedule below.

3. What you may do. We grant you a non-exclusive, worldwide right, limited to the term and the limits in the schedule, to use the Beat to create one new song by adding your own vocals or lyrics (the "Song"), to edit and arrange the Beat for the Song, and to release and use the Song as follows: sell and distribute copies and downloads, make it available on streaming services, use it in music videos, perform it live and have it played on radio – each within the limits in the schedule. The limits count across all platforms and formats combined.

4. What you may not do. You may not:

- sell, share, lease or give away the Beat, its stems or files on their own, or as part of a beat, sample or sound pack;
- release, share or give away the stems, or allow others to remix the Song or the Beat – remixes by others need their own license from us;
- register the Beat or the Song with YouTube Content ID or any other audio fingerprinting system (please opt out with your distributor);
- use the Beat for synchronisation in films, TV, adverts, games or trailers – this needs a separate license;
- claim that you created the Beat;
- use the Beat, its stems or the Song to train artificial intelligence models;

- transfer this license to anyone else, except to a label or distributor releasing the Song on your behalf. You may share the files with your co-writers, producers and engineers working on the Song, solely for that purpose; you remain responsible for them.

5. Credit. Every release of the Song must credit the producer credit stated for the Beat in your license document ("prod. Mu Lean" or, for beats made with co-producers, for example "prod. Mu Lean & [co-producer]") in the title or, where the platform has no such field, in the credits or description.

6. Composition and collecting societies. The composition of the Beat is a work by Ciarán Mullan and the co-producers named in the credit, all members of GEMA. Together they hold 50 % of the composition of the Song; you and your co-writers hold the other 50 %. You must register the Song with your collecting society (e.g. GEMA, PRS, ASCAP, BMI), naming them as composers with this combined share; on request, we will tell you how it is divided among them. Uses of the composition such as copying, streaming, broadcasting and public performance are additionally licensed by the collecting societies; this license does not waive their royalties.

7. Our rights. We and our co-producers keep all rights in the Beat, its recording, its stems and its composition. We may continue to license the Beat to others and may sell exclusive rights to it.

8. Your master. You own the sound recording of your Song (the "Master"), but you may only exploit it within this license. We receive no master royalties under a lease; master royalties for exclusive licenses are agreed in the exclusive agreement.

9. Term, limits and upgrades. This license runs for 5 years from the date of purchase or until one of the limits in the schedule is reached, whichever comes first. To continue using the Song after that, you need a new license. Within 12 months of your purchase you can upgrade to a higher lease or to an exclusive license of the same Beat; the price you paid is credited and you only pay the difference.

10. Exclusive sale. If we sell exclusive rights to the Beat, this license remains valid until the end of its term or limits; it can then no longer be renewed or upgraded, and the Beat is removed from sale.

11. Our promise. The Beat is the original work of Mu Lean and the co-producers named in the credit and contains only our own or cleared sounds. Our liability is governed by section 9 of our Terms of Service.

12. Breach. This license ends immediately, without notice, if you sell, share or give away the Beat, its stems or files on their own, release or share the stems, register the Beat or the Song with Content ID or a similar system, or do not add the credit within 14 days of our request. You must then remove the Song from all platforms within 14 days. For other breaches, we may terminate this license after giving you 14 days' written notice to remedy the breach.

13. Law. German law applies. If you are a consumer, the mandatory consumer protection rules of your country of residence remain unaffected. Our Terms of Service (mulean.com/termsofservice) also apply.
